Dear Chairman Heinrich and Ranking Member Hoeven,

The undersigned organizations of the Coalition to Promote U.S. Agricultural Exports request at least $200 million in continued mandatory funding for the U.S. Department of Agriculture Market Access Program (MAP) and at least $34.5 million in continued mandatory funding for the Foreign Market Development Program (FMD) when you write the fiscal year 2024 Agriculture, Food and Drug Administration and Related Agencies appropriations bill later this year.

For more than 50 years, American agriculture exports have counted as a trade surplus and have endured as a source of economic growth and national pride for the U.S. farmers and ranchers who feed, fuel, and cloth the world. This positive trade balance is now in serious jeopardy. In February, USDA again cut its ag export forecast for fiscal year (FY) 2023 but kept their forecast for higher US agricultural imports intact, resulting in a growing trade deficit. USDA forecasts ag exports at $184.5 billion vs imports of $199 billion for a trade deficit of $14.5 billion. This ominous projection has worsened since November when exports were pegged at $190 billion against imports of $199 billion.

Investments now in these proven, export promotion programs are immediate steps which can be taken to continue American agriculture’s longer term success story in trade. According to USDA between 1977 and 2019, every dollar invested in these programs returned on average $24.50 in annual export value. During the same period, these programs increased export revenue by $9.6 billion annually and added $12.2 billion to farm cash receipts.

These programs continue proving their value and are glowing examples of public-private partnerships with matching funds continuing to outpace government investment that hasn’t increased since 2006. After inflation and mandatory budget cuts through sequestration, the real value of the MAP program is $123.9 million, far less than the $200 million authorized level. And the FMD program is $19.3 million, not $35 million as authorized. This diminished value is also the reason why we are asking you to use discretionary funding to provide $7 million – less than 3 percent of the program investment - for USDA administrative and operational costs to begin reversing this trend of lost program value. With administrative funding in place, at least some of the lost value can be restored. The outlook for ag trade is uncertain due to continuing supply chain disruptions, surging international competition and the absence of new, near-term trade agreements. We remain hopeful that the promise of new market access opportunities will be realized in the future. In the meantime, support for MAP and FMD investment has never been more important. Please continue the investment in these critically necessary programs.

Sincerely,

The Coalition to Promote U.S. Agricultural Exports (see attached)
